Great Oak, Inc. to sell DeerPro™

(Redding, CT) The McNamara family, owners of Redding Nursery have announced the creation of a new company, Great Oak, Inc., to manufacture and sell their DeerPro™ Winter Animal Repellent Spray.

Great Oak will be owned and operated by the McNamaras. The new company will be responsible for the production of the DeerPro spray. The company is also currently seeking EPA approval on a new deer repellent for spring and summer plant protection. The new spray has tested very well and EPA approval is expected in the summer of 2008.

The popular DeerPro winter spray has generated a great deal of interest from commercial applicators across the country. The two sprays together will provide customers with year round protection from deer browsing.
